Sioux Lookout Hydro Announces Appointment of Interim CEO, Anthony Zarecki

Sioux Lookout Hydro is pleased to announce the appointment of Anthony Zarecki as the utility's Interim Chief Executive Officer, effective November 21, 2025. Anthony steps into the role following the retirement of longtime CEO Deanne Kulchyski, who served with dedication and care for both the organization and the community.

The Board of Directors extends its sincere gratitude to Deanne Kulchyski for her leadership and many contributions over her years with Sioux Lookout Hydro. Her commitment to public safety, customer service, and local reliability improvements has left a lasting and meaningful impact.

Anthony has been part of the Sioux Lookout Hydro team since 2007, and has served as Operations Manager since 2019. Throughout his nearly two decades with the utility, he has been deeply involved in day-to-day operations, system planning, customer service, regulatory compliance, and supporting the community's steady growth. Known for his hands-on approach and strong relationships with staff, municipal partners, and local businesses, Anthony has played an important role in ensuring Sioux Lookout Hydro remains responsive and community-focused.

"I care deeply about Sioux Lookout and Hudson. This is home, and it's an honour to serve our community in this role," said Zarecki. "My focus as Interim CEO is to continue providing safe and reliable service, strengthen communication with our customers, and support the community's growth and long-term needs. I look forward to working closely with our staff, Board, and partners to keep Sioux Lookout Hydro moving in a positive direction."

As Interim CEO, Anthony will oversee the utility’s ongoing operations while supporting long-term planning, customer service initiatives, and continued collaboration with local stakeholders. The Board is confident that his leadership will provide stability and continuity during this transition period.
